What's Happening in Adult Next Week at Storrs Library

Dates: August 27–September 2, 2023

The Library will be closed Saturday, September 2nd through Monday, September 4th for Labor Day.

Art Exhibit

Nicole Landry

Tuesday, August 1 – Thursday, August 31

Visit Storrs Library in the month of August to view an exhibit by Nicole Landry. The artwork on display is a mix of melted crayons, paint, and cross-stitch.

Please visit anytime the room is not in use.

Abstract Art Squad

Friday, September 1 – Friday, September 29

September's art show at Storrs Library will feature works by the Abstract Art Squad - four artists who met at an abstract art class three years ago and continue to meet weekly to support and inspire one another. Each artist has their own style ranging from simple geometrics to complex intuitive compositions.

Maggi Predmore - I create for the purpose of getting lost and letting my mind relax. There is no destination or final product in mind...just color explorations, lines, and forms that I find pleasing in the moment.

Nadine Shapiro - I studied Art History at Smith College and worked in museums until a diagnosis of Multiple Sclerosis early in my career shifted my interest to creating art. I work mostly with acrylics, colored pencils, pencils, and mixed media.

Roger Kellman - After many years of artistic realism, I love the freedom of painting abstracts in acrylic. With a blank canvas and a free mind, there are so many possibilities. I love contrasts in tone and color. Always exploring.

Jean-Marie Magnier - As a math and science person, I tend to prefer doing realistic, representational paintings because I can tell when I am 'getting it right'. Abstract art pushes me out of this comfort zone and allows me to simply enjoy the experience of playing with paint.

A reception will take place on September 12th from 5-7 pm in the Betty Ann Low Room where light refreshments will be served.

Music Appreciation with Rob HUMBERSTON: Austria: The Waltz. Von Suppe. Schönberg, etc.

Wednesday, August 30, 1:00–2:30

Join us every Wednesday as we listen to beautiful music in performances by artists and ensembles and their conductors renowned for their interpretations of these works.

This Summer, the Music Appreciation program which began last Fall will conclude with a focus on music since 1830, marking the complete transition to the Romantic Era and beyond in music history, triggered by the robust, more emotional style of Beethoven relative to the music before him. Rob Humberston will cover music developing in some of the major national music centers of Europe, including Russia, Scandinavia, and Britain. By the end of August, we will cap our survey with ideas driving some of the music of the 20th Century. Please join us as we enjoy some memorable music. This is not the end: There will be new programs beginning in September as well, with more information to come.

Say Their Names: Stories of Slavery in Longmeadow

Wednesday, August 30, 6:30–7:30

Acknowledging and honoring the lives of sixteen people known to have been enslaved in Longmeadow during the town's formative years, this important event brings together several years of ongoing research by Longmeadow Historical Society Board Members.

Hear their names. Know their stories. Honor their memory.
